KILLED DRIVER OF MAIL AND DID NOT STOP

Car Ran On, but Iron Plate Number Fell and Police Traced Crew.

Benjamin Macdonald, the driver of a mail wagon, was instantly killed early to-day by being thrown from the wagon, which was struck by a Lexington avenue car. The car was in charge of the conductor and not the motorman. No attempt was made to stop it after the accident, and but for the fact that the iron plate bearing the motorman's run number was found after the acci-word was sent to the East Fifty-fluctuation when the police reached the place Boyd told them what he had seen, and said several cars had passed and he did not know the number of the one that had struck the wagon.

A half-hour leter Walter G. Seymour, the motorman, and Albert Orman, the conductor, were brought to the East Thirty-fifth street station. There Seymour said he had not been in charge of the car and knew nothing of the accident until long after it had occurred.

When they were arraigned later in yorkville Police Court Orman and Seymour were remanded to the custody of the Coroners' Office by Masistrate Barlow. Both refused to talk about the case, and to all questions as to whether they were in their proper positions on the car at the time of the accident, or as to the speed they were going, they replied that they didn't remember.

Association Holds that Additional Tracks Will Delay Parallel Subway Construction.

The Merchants' Association, through President Clarence Whitman, sent today to the Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners a letter of protest against the proposed "L" road plan to construct additional tracks on the Second and dent it would have been hard to determine which car killed the driver.

Macdonald was driving north from the Post-Office with a load of mail and paking all haste when the car came making all haste when the car came upon him at Thirty-ninth street. The limit plan of extention was first broached. Opposition to the proposed track extension, and the second overturned it. Macdonald was thrown fifteen feet, striking the curb with his head.

William Boyd, of No. 206 East Forty-fourth street, saw the accident, and telephoned Police Headquarters, and word was sent to the East Fifty-fifth street station and to Bellevue Hospital.
